THE PATH CONNECTS

A new path for pedestrians and cyclists will go from the center of Dalaberg and further up through Hovhult to finally reach the recreation and production area of Bulid. Along the path the greenhouse is centrally located and there are also sites for play, such as the climbing trees and huts, as for a chance to rest in the hammock trees. Large open spaces with opportunities for markets and events, as well as the cultivation area, are located along the route, and over time, available premises will be added. The path that links the various parts of the proposal contributes, not only to a better connection within the area, but also with the walking and cycling paths from the citycenter of Uddevalla. Thereby it creates a greater mobility of people from other parts of the city. In this way, people from other areas also get to experience the qualities that exist in Dalaberg and Hovhult.

CONTEMPLATION

On a warm summer day, it is perfect to rest in the shade under the low hammock trees

PLAY

Along the path there is a site especially for children, full of climbing trees and huts. Here they have the opportunity to build, interact with others or be by themselves. By having special spots where the kids can come to play they gain strenght to the interaction in the area.

INTERACTION

The square in front of the greenhouse enables a wealth of activities and events. Food market, concerts performed by the cultural school or why not as a gathering for the next demonstration.

FLEXIBILITY

The greenhouse does not only accommodates plant cultivation but also houses office and study areas, classrooms and language cafés. It will be full of life all year round in form of both plants and people. It will become a natural meeting spot in the area.
